Burton— Hamilton Wedding

ST. Peter's Church, Glenelg, was beautifully decorated with white flowers last night, when the Rev. H. R. Cavalier celebrated the marriage of Nancy, daughter of the late Mr. F. Hamilton and Mrs. Hamilton, of Ewell Vineyards, Glenelg, to Kenneth, son of the late Mr. Burton and Mrs. M. Burton, of Glenelg.

Mr. Sydney Hamilton (brother of the bride) gave her away, and charming she looked in rich ivory satin, made with long close-fitting sleeves, and the long skirt flaring from the hipline. At the waist was a beautiful pearl trimming, which appeared again on the shoulder. A veil of white tulle, which also formed the train, was arranged cap fashion on the hair, with a double row of pearls. Blue, which was the colour note of the wedding, appeared in the bride's sheaf in the form of delphiniums arranged with pink carnations.

Two attendant maids were Misses Marjorie Salter and Gwen Gibbs in long flared frocks of delphinium blue georgette with little flared cape sleeves. They wore wreaths of forget-me-nots on the hair, and the bride groom's gift of rhinestone necklaces. Early Victorian posies of pink and blue flowers were carried.

Robert Hamilton, in blue satin trousers, white silk blouse, and buckled shoes, was a page, and Diana Hamilton, wearing a Kate Greenaway frock of delphinium blue net, with a wreath of forget-me-nots on her hair, was a charming little trainbearer.

Mr. Frank Osborne was best man, and Mr. Frank Burton (bridegroom's brother) groomsman.

After the ceremony Mrs. Frank Hamilton held a reception at the Hotel Vincent, wearing a frock of navy blue lace, and a navy crin hat, with satin ribbon arranged about the crown. She carried a posy of red flowers. Mrs. M. Burton wore a frock of nut brown crepe satin with matching hat, and carried a posy of red flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Burton left for the eastern States, the bride travelling in a saxe-blue ensemble with matching straw hat.
